Tokyo.—Bikoro Hashimoto, assistant station master at the Otsuka railway station, where Premier Tanaka Hara was assassinated Friday night, has been arrested, charged with complicity in the crime. About 20 other employees at the station were released after being questioned. Police say that he had no accomplices. Police believe, however, the assassin's denial of accomplices is a stratagem to lead to a well dressed unidentified man was seen hurrying from the station at the moment Nakoka thrust his finger into the chest of the assassin. The authorities are of the opinion that the youth's statement, that he alone conceived the crime was made in an effort to shield his co-conspirators.

FRENCH BLUEBEARD GOES ON TRIAL AS SLAYER OF ELEVEN

SENSATIONAL CASE OPENS IN VERSAILLES COURT.

BODIES BURNED

Fiancees Disappear Completely in Villa of Henri Landru.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Versailles.—Court officials gathered here Monday for the opening in the sensational trial of the police chief of Henri Desire Landru, the "Bluebeard of France" who is charged with 11 murders. Ten of his alleged victims were women to whom he is said to have promised marriage and the 11th, the son of one of them. He is alleged to have burned his victim's bodies.

M. More-Glaffion, who defended former Premier Clemenceau and former Senator Charles Humbert at their sensational trials, will appear in behalf of Landru. Prosecuting Attorney General conducting the case for the government, Judge Gilbert of Versailles will preside.

The case has attracted greater attention than any other criminal case in the annals of French courts.

Landru was arrested in April, 1919, and has spent his time for the past two and a half years in answering evading questions of the police, the investigating magistrate, and other court officials as to the fate of his 11 fiancées. He has proved a most stubborn as well as a very clever prisoner and the police admit their case against him is not as strong as they should like.

The so-called Bluebeard, rented a small villa at Gambais, a few miles from Paris, and it is there, the police charge, he did away with the 11 women, all trace of whom has been absolutely lost. It is alleged he advertised in various matrimonial agency papers and chose from the latter a little property and no near relatives.

A short courtship would follow, then a journey to the Gambais villa in the company of the woman, the police allege, and the fiancée would be found dead. The police claim to have proof that women were seen to enter the villa but none was heard of afterward. A few weeks later, the fiancée would be found dead, the police claim, and the bodies would be found in a field.

WARSHIPS PUT TO SEA TO MEET BODY OF UNKNOWN HERO

ELMS ARE PLANTED

Ceremonies of Armistice Week Open on Lincoln Memorial Grounds.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington.—Designated as escort to the cruiser Olympia bearing the unknown hero, five destroyers left New York Monday to meet the Olympia.

An escort of 10 airplanes will meet the Olympia late Tuesday as she enters the Potomac and will accompany the cruiser to Washington.

Opening of Armistice week was marked here Monday with planting of two American elms on the grounds of the Lincoln memorial. The tree, one for the allied armies and one for the allied navies, were dedicated by Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry association.

"On Friday, all the unknown dead will be honored, but these living memorials we plant here Monday, are a sign of our faith that the idea behind all of our president for the armistice conference will live."

Mrs. Harding presented her tree-planting trophy to members of the American Legion, who will plant the tree at the head of what will be an international avenue of memorial trees to be planted by various governments.

The president's wife brought her trophy, which had just been returned from Canton, O., and South Bend, Ind., where it was used for memorial tree-planting at the tomb of William McKinley and along the Lincoln Highway. Immediately after the ceremony, Monday, the trophy was sent to Chicago, where the American Legion will plant several miles of road to honor the armistice.

Four American Indian chiefs, each a member of the American Legion, will plant the trees.

Crime Is on Decrease, Says Chief Justice

Washington.—Attorney General Daugherty, who with Chief Justice Taft, appeared before the house judiciary committee Monday, in connection with legislation providing for additional federal judges, told the committee there was evidence that the recent "crime wave" was gradually diminishing.

"When we get further away from the war period, there will be fewer criminal prosecutions in our courts," he said, "but when we have returned to normal conditions, the increase in judicial business will more than make up for less criminal proceedings and the same congestion will remain."

Discussing the bill by Representative Walsh, republican, Massachusetts, for appointment of 21 additional federal judges, Chief Justice Taft declared some steps should be taken to help litigants whose cases could not come to trial because of the rush of business and increase of judges.

NO MORE FAMINES FEARED IN CHINA

Network of Railroads Will Solve Problem, Whitewater Graduate Says.

Whitewater—In the eyes and hearts of the Chinese, people of the United States are regarded as national Samaritans—a sort of big Santa Claus—according to J. Earl Baker, railroad builder who spoke recently in the Whitewater normal, where he was graduated. He will speak again before a community gathering in the normal school gymnasium Sunday.

The relief work was explained, for during the famine period American representatives fed 900,000 people at a cost of 2.5 cents a day each. Food cost about $32.30 a ton.

If you want to escape the high cost of living, come to China," it was stated.

Plan Trans-Pacific Railroad

The speaker told of the interesting traits of the Chinese, their national problems, and the gigantic program of railroad building to avert another such a famine catastrophe. He is making a progressive China with the medium of railroads, the lack of trunk line transportation being the greatest national defect of the Asiatic republic.

Respect was paid to Whitewater normal by Mr. Baker.

"I want to say that I feel much of my success is due to ideals instilled in my mind here in this normal school," he stated. "There were more than 500 in the audience when the speaker was introduced by President R. S. Hyer. Mr. Baker was graduated from Whitewater normal in 1901 from the University of Wisconsin, M. 1905.

To Attend Army Meet

His parents formerly lived east of Whitewater. They later moved to Chicago where Mr. Baker and children are now visiting. Mr. Baker will go to Washington soon for the session of limitation of armaments, advising the Chinese people as to the progress, and we of the United States will accomplish much more when we co-operate with them," stated Mr. Baker. "The problem dealt to me was the uniting of 15 railroads in to one system."

Effects of Famine

Brought was declared to have caused the famine. The realization that there were no crops started a migration of the country people from the great Chinese plains toward the cities. Railroad officers were mobbed, and held by the hordes in the streets, with suffering general among the poor. Personal property, hoarded wealth, and even children went for grain, food to keep alive.

"Some Chinese think famine is a visitation of Providence to reduce the population," he said. "Some of the scheming land owners saw the famine as a means to increase their wealth. The poor people were at the mercy of those with grain or wealth. There were no industrial leaders, no organization, and the scholarly politicians ran affairs to suit themselves."

Soy Beans Used

During the period of relief work, Mr. Baker was in charge of the transportation, and Emmet White, the secretary of the funds. Famine relief began was started, payment being made with rations. In this way the people were fed and the roads built for future China.

"The Chinese are sharp bargainers," it was explained. "They will dick and haggle for hours for a copper, because of their pride in getting the best of a bargain."

At one time 2,000 laborers were employed and 850 miles of road built. Illness was reduced, for only five men out of 51,000 in Shantung died, and none of the relief workers was fatally stricken by the fever.

Soy beans brought from the north formed one of the chief items of food. Not a penny of the Red Cross fund was lost in road building, according to Mr. Baker, but nearly 1,000,000 were lost by the American aid.

A network of railroads is planned, and when completed the world will not fear another famine. It will save life in central China. The railroads of Shantung and Shensi and the other provinces will make a famine impossible," closed Mr. Baker.

Iowa Cashier Ends His Life

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—Emil Banosa, cashier of the Citizens' Savings bank, committed suicide by firing two shots from an automatic shotgun into his head.

Mrs. Mary Cervenka, teller in the bank at the time, rushed out to call help. Just as she returned Banosa fired the second shot. Land speculation is believed responsible for the act.

Banosa made a large sum of money speculating in Iowa farms. He lost it all in the slump last summer. He organized the bank with a capital of $10,000. Deposits amount to about a half million.

A state bank examiner after a hasty examination said the bank's finances are intact.

Workers will meet at the office of James Shoridan, county chairman, West Milwaukee street, at 9 a. m. Tuesday. Results of the morning will be announced at a dinner in St. Patrick's hall at noon. The Ladies' Auxiliary of the A. O. H. will serve the dinner, to which all workers are invited.

The Mark of Quality

Superior Features of the Famous "Hotel" Mattresses

They measure up to the Leath standard of quality in every detail, otherwise we would not sell them. Only the finest pure cotton felt, white as snow, soft as down, is used in building these high grade mattresses. They are built in layers, giving the utmost resiliency and soft comfort, and prevent packing or flattening so common in ordinary mattresses. The "HOTEL" way of building a mattress is a secret process, found in no other mattress regardless of price.

Only the most skillful hand work could produce these superior mattresses. You'll realize this when you examine the difference between Hotel mattresses and others.

The most expensive and durable ticking in pretty patterns adds years of service—that's why Hotel mattresses are preferred in leading hotels, where they are subjected to hardest usage.

Case of Infantile Paralysis Here; No Fear of Epidemic

Development of a case of infantile paralysis in the city has caused worry, which is quickly being dispelled, according to a statement issued by Health Officer Dr. P. B. Welch, Monday afternoon. The case is that of Louise Farnsworth, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Farnsworth, 315 Court street.

"There need be no worry or flurry when a case of infantile paralysis breaks out in the city," stated Dr. Welch. "There are one or two cases in town and the development of a case now is not unusual. The disease is endemic, that is, it is always here and there, which breaks out here and there, in fact, it is a disease which few people catch, even when exposed."

BURDEN OF PEACE RESTS ON CHURCH

Let Religion Point Way, Pierson's Plea on Disarmament Sunday.

Declaring that "we came out of the World War disillusioned that the war was going to bring peace," the Rev. R. G. Pierson, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, stated Sunday morning that while he favors disarmament, only the Gospel of Christ will bring peace to the world.

He stated Sunday night that the world's greatest crisis is not the war, but the burden of peace which it will be how to civilization.

"Now is the time for the Christian church to rise and express to the world, the peace it stands for," he said. "The time has come for the Christian church to say to the statesmen everywhere, 'This is the way, walk ye in it.'"

Jealousy, suspicion and hate, he said, before war will cease, stated the pastor, and in their place must be the love of Jesus Christ.

Quoting Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, having declared that the Gospel of Christ is the only way to peace, the minister asserted that if the church remains indifferent, war will continue. In the words of the U. S. army, said Mr. Pierson, "If the churches cannot agree upon peace, it will not be done. The responsibility will then be upon the Christians of the United States."

"There are those in the world who say there will be another war more horrible than the last because of the selfishness of man and the lack of spiritual guidance," the Rev. Mr. Pierson said. "We cannot reconcile Christianity with war any longer, and that there is no longer any glory in war and that it is a disgrace to the Christian public opinion is aroused against war. Our young men who were 'over there' do not want war."

The minister announced that an 89-year-old Japanese woman who has done much missionary work in her country, will appear before the disarmament conference at Washington and plead for disarmament.
